ASP.NET site

The screenshot shows the ASP.NET website homepage in a web browser. The browser's address bar displays `http://www.asp.net/`. The page features a navigation bar with the ASP.NET logo, a search bar, and links for Sign In, Join, and Language. The main navigation menu includes Home, Get Started, Learn, Hosting, Downloads, Community, Forums, and Help.

The central banner is titled "Learning ASP.NET" and describes ASP.NET as a free web framework for building web sites, apps, and services with HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. It includes a "Learn more" link and a diagram illustrating the framework's components. Below the banner is a horizontal menu with categories: Meet ASP.NET, Web Sites, APIs, Real-time, and Mobile.

A promotional section titled "Host 10 ASP.NET Web Sites for free." highlights deployment to Windows Azure, with a "learn more" link. Below this is a sidebar with "ANNOUNCEMENTS" (linking to "Visual Studio 2013 Release Candidate | Open Source") and "DAILY COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT" (linking to "View All"). A "FOLLOW US ON" section includes social media icons for Twitter and Facebook.

The main content area features an announcement titled "Announcing Release of ASP.NET and Web Tools for Visual Studio 2013 RC", stating that Visual Studio 2013 RC is available and that Xinyang Qiu demonstrates the top ASP.NET and Web Tools features in this release candidate.

A "FEATURED AD" for DevExpress is displayed, claiming it was voted "best ASP.NET Grid" and is "blazing fast and you can try it risk-free." The ad includes a "Free Trial" link and a screenshot of the DevExpress ASP.NET Grid in use.
